ANTI-HORSE THIEF ASSOCIATION HOLDING ANNUAL MEETING

STATE ORGANIZATION IN ANNUAL SESSION. WILL CONCLUDE TOMORROW.

The state convention of the Anti-Horse Thief Association met this morning at 10 o'clock. The enrollment of delegates and visiting members will probably reach 100, the attendance being cut down by the influenza epidemic and other obstacles one being the postponement of the meeting to October.

The session was called to order by George H. Foster of Wagoner, president. Rev. G. W. Beck offered an invocation. Senator-elect Luther Harrison delivered an address welcoming the visitors to the city and this was responded to by H. M. Campbell Russell, member of the state corporation commission and a member of the executive committee of the association. By invitation of the president short talks were made by County Attorney Wayne Wadlington and Byron Norrell. The convention then went into executive session. It resumed work at 1 o'clock this afternoon and a night session is planned. The work will be concluded either this evening or Friday morning.

This organization embraces the old Indian Territory jurisdiction and has about 6,500 members. For the past ten years W. H. A. Harrison of Checotah has been the secretary-treasurer and the work has been carried on most effectively through his efforts.

J. W. Cookson of Cookson, Cherokee county, one of the leading cat-claring for Hugo as the next place of meeting.

Among the delegates are many of the most prominent livestock men of the state, many of them past the meridian of life, but still active and as insistent as ever for law and order. Mr. Russell in his remarks called attention to the fact that the work of the Association is not yet done and that the coming reconstruction may present new problems which the organization will be called on to solve.

President Foster named the following committees:

Credentials—J. T. Hairston, C. E. Ogle, R. H. Stalley.
Resolution—Campbell Russell, J. J. Jones, W. C. Davis.

TRAFFIC RESUMED ON TRANS-SIBERIAN RAILROAD.

(By the Associated Press)
PEKING, Nov. 21.—One of the immediate results of the Czecho-Slovak success in Siberia is the reopening of normal traffic on the Trans-Siberian Railway, at least as far as Irkutsk, the service between Vladivostok and Harbin having been in operation for some time and it is no strain upon the imagination to anticipate thru communication to Europe at no distant date.

The American Railway Commission in Siberia has contributed to this result. About 80 of the 300 members of the commission which was accepted by the Kerensky government went for months to Nagasaki after the Bolshevik revolution but the remainder spent the time in Siberia, where by mixing with the Russian workers and demonstrating simple improvements and up-to-date methods, they gradually introduced changes which have enormously increased the efficiency of a portion of the line.

HUN FLEET SURRENDERED

GERMANS COMPLYING WITH CONDITIONS SPECIFIED IN ARMISTICE TERMS.

(By the Associated Press)
LONDON, Nov. 21.—The main German fleet, as specified in the terms of the armistice with Germany, was surrendered to the allies at 9:30 o'clock this morning, according to an official admiralty announcement this afternoon.

The names of the battleships, cruisers and light cruisers surrendered to allies have not been announced officially, however, a telegram from Berlin Sunday gave the list as follows: Battleships, Kaiser, Kaiserin, Kronprinz, Kronprinz Wilhelm, Prince Regent Luitpold, Markgraf, Grosser Kurfuerst, Dayern, Koenig and Friedrich der Grosse. Battle cruisers: Hindenburg, Derfflinger, Seydlitz, Moltke and Von Der Tann; cruisers, Bremen, Brummer, Frankfurt, Koeln, Dresden and Emden.

American Fleet Takes Part.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—An American battle squadron, probably including five dreadnaughts commanded by Rear Admiral Hugh Rodman, and operating as a unit of the British grand fleet participated today in the passing of German sea power. The Americans shared in the formal acceptance by Admiral Beatty, first British Sea Lord, of the surrender of the main force of the German high seas fleet as designated by the armistice terms.

Americans in Luxembourg.

PARIS, Nov. 21 (Havas).—American troops will pass through the city of Luxembourg today. General John J. Pershing, commander of the American army, will accompany the forces and will call on Grand Duchess Marie Adelaide while in her capital city. A proclamation has been issued to the Luxembourg people announcing that American troops' passage thru their territory is necessary and guaranteeing the discipline and friendliness of the troops.

NURSE URGES MORE LETTERS TO SOLDIERS.

(By the Associated Press)
LONDON, Nov. 21.—More letters from home to American troops abroad are urged by Mrs. Margaret Walter, of Kansas City, an American Red Cross official visitor to London hospitals.

"I don't know why it is that the boys get so few letters," she said. "It isn't as if other people were deprived of mail as well. I have asked the nurses, and most of them get an average of two letters a week from their families in America. But even some of the boys who have been in hospitals seven or eight weeks have not yet heard a word from their people."

"If mothers and sisters only knew what home letters mean over here! Why, it gets to such a pass that the nurses read aloud their own letters and share them with the boys, so as not to seem selfish. One of the nurses in my ward said she almost hated to have the boys see her getting her regular weekly mail. It made them so envious."

STOCK BREEDERS HOLD MEETING.

The stock breeders of the county met yesterday at the court house at a call meeting by the Improved Breeders' Association, and heard a good talk by D. T. Meeker of the U. S. Department of Agriculture in the live stock work in this state. He explained the possibilities of the good this Association can be to the live stock interests of this county by shipping co-operatively and having regular shipping dates.

Plans for the stock show on the 26th and 27th were completed, and it is expected to have the best stock show ever held in the county on the above dates.

All breeders present became members of this association and those men are anxious that every farmer in the county become a member of the association.

VICTORY GIRL CAMPAIGN "OVER THE TOP."

The success of the Victory Girl campaign has been most gratifying. Literature explaining the campaign, posters, enrollment cards and victory girl buttons were sent to a responsible leader in each of the school districts of Pontotoc county. All districts that reported sent in the message, "Over the Top." Two hundred twenty-four girls were enrolled in the county. The amount pledged was $1,106.91, with $195.46 paid. The quota was three hundred fifty dollars. Through the papers of the county I wish to thank most heartily all those who worked so earnestly to make the campaign such a splendid success. LEONE STEED, County Chairman of Victory Girls Campaign.

PEACE REIGNS AT HUN CAPITAL

BERLIN QUIET AFTER WEEK OF TURMOIL. NEW CABINET IN FULL CONTROL.

BERLIN, Nov. 21.—After a week of revolution Berlin presents the same appearance as on any afternoon during the war and the casual visitor would be unaware that the city had been the storm center of a political upheaval. The Ebert-Hasse cabinet apparently is in undisputed control, although the organization is still somewhat chaotic. Indispensable elements of the old regime have been retained and a semblance of method is being gradually introduced.

ALLIES ENTER STRONG PROTEST

WILL CALL ATTENTION OF HOLLAND TO PASSAGE OF RE-TREATING GERMAN TROOPS.

(By the Associated Press)
PARIS, Nov. 21.—Allied governments have decided to send official protest to the Dutch government against the violation of Holland's neutrality as a result of her permitting German troops to cross the Province of Limburg in their retreat from Belgium, according to the Echo de Paris. Dutch Limburg is a long irregular province in Holland about 105 miles in length with the lower extremity between Belgium and the Rhine provinces. German troops crossed this lower part returning from Belgium to Germany and the charge was made that Holland sanctioned the passage.

AN AMERICAN.

"Little Mother," you were a small boy you held me in your arms one evening at the bed time story hour; looking into the flickering fireplace, you began:

Once upon a time there was a young couple who had been married four years. They were very happy indeed in their love for each other and they lived in a small kingdom of their own making, in the Valley of the Many Colored Grass. There was only one thing which they wished for and did not have, and that was a little son. One happy year flew by, then two, and at the end of each anniversary the young wife would ask God to send her a little son. But the baby of her dreams and hopes and prayers came not, until three years, then four had flown by.

One day in the old city of San Antonio, she felt impelled to visit the Alamo. She went into its cool, shaded depths, wandered about, thought of the heroes Travis, Bowie and Crockett who laid down their lives therein for the cause of freedom. She remembered how they had died, and their tiny band of heroes, fighting with their backs against the wall, till none were left to tell the tale, and of how it has always been said concerning the heroic defenders of Texas and American liberty. "Thermopole had her messenger, the Alamo had none." She wandered from place to place in the old mold chapel, looking at each relic, and from there into the clear air and bright sunshine of the old Spanish monks had been wont to take their daily walks. It lay hushed and warm in the sunlight. A huge oleander stood at the corner of the wall; there was a tiny hummingbird among the sweet scented flowers. Three petals had fallen from a yellow rose and touched the warm stones in the pathway. She walked up and down the paths as the monks of old had done in the years gone by—she looked out and over the garden walls into Alamo Plaza, with its gay flowers and tropical trees. She listened to the clang, clang of the street cars coming and going. She loved her old home town, with its Spanish and Latin touches, which seemed to give it a wicked as well as a picturesque charm.

She said to herself "What a great thing it is to have been born a Texan!" After thinking a little she added, "There is only one thing greater—to have been born an American."

Of a sudden she felt impelled to retrace her steps and return to the dimness and cool of the Alamo itself. Going in softly she turned to the right, entering the small room, the Baptistry, across the entrance in which Crockett's dead body had been found. Kneeling in this room she prayed, "Dear Lord: Send me that son I have asked for, for four long years. Send him to me to hold in my arms, to love and to cuddle while he is small. I don't ask you to make him handsome, brilliant or rich, only make him good and brave like the heroes of the Alamo. He shall be mine while he is a little boy, but when he gets to be a man, he shall belong to you and my country. I ask this in the name of Your dear Son."

When her prayer was ended, on opening her eyes, before her stood the Angel of the Annunciation with the shining lily in his hand. He smiled and touched her saying: "God is going to give you the son you asked for."

In the fullness of time the little baby came and was placed in his mother's arms. She thought of so many things as she looked at her little new-born son. She thought of Mary and the little Jesus, and how a sword had pierced that mother's heart. She thought of the pain of the world—for had she not experienced it in her own frail body, when she went down into the Valley of the Shadow to get her first-born? How sweet and dear the baby looked to her, as he lay snuggled up against her! Then she remembered her promise to God and she said, "I must love him every minute of his precious, baby-life, for when he is grown to be a man, I must give him to God and to his country."

You told me this story, Little Mother O'Mine, and you said that I was the little baby, whom you first carried under your heart until he had become the heart of your heart. Will it be a pleasure to you to know that last fall when stationed at Kelly

Field, San Antonio, your boy did what you had done more than twenty-one years ago? I, like you, visited the Alamo, so dear to the hearts of every Texan. How I love the Lone Star which floats from its modest tower! But I love even more the stars and stripes of Old Glory. You said there was only one thing greater than to have been born in Texas—namely, to have been born an American. And on this Mother's Day I would like to paraphrase your statement by saying that there is one thing even greater than to have been an American—and that is to be the mother of an American.

I have carried in my heart the memory of the story you told me so long ago. Going into the old Baptistry, I knelt as you had done, rededicating myself, as you had dedicated me, to the service of God and my country. You saw the Angel of Annunciation with the shining lily in his hand. Shall I tell you of the vision which came to me, as I knelt praying? Before me passed, first, the figure of Compassion, which you remember, was King Solomon's name for God. Then came Renunciation, with that look of perfect peace upon his face which only renunciation of the things of this life can bring. After this, the Battlefields among the lilies of France. On the battlefields I met pain. I realized then, what you had meant and experienced, when you told me about pain of the world. I thought that I could not bear to look upon the anguish of his face and turned another way. Freedom and Democracy followed in the wake of the world's war walking hand in hand upon the earth together.

I came out from the chapel of the Alamo, with peace and hope in my heart. I take the vision as the best omen. Our country shall win. And you, little Mother, are the mother of an American.—Ex.

WELCOME A. H. T. A.

In behalf of the city and county the News extends a hearty welcome to the state convention of the Anti-Horse Thief Association. A glance at its membership reveals the sturdy men who compose the organization. From the early days until this good hour they have been a strong force in the cause of law and order and to these men we owe a debt of gratitude for the work they have done in bettering conditions in Oklahoma. The inveterate foes of lawlessness in every form many of these men have undergone hardships and dangers that men of less determination would not have faced and today they can see some of the results of their work in the peaceful and prosperous state in which they live. However, law breakers are present in the best regulated communities and there is still work for these men. May they prosper in their laudable undertaking is our wish. Again we say, welcome to our city and county and may your stay among us be pleasant.

RESOLUTION.

Passed by the State Board of Education, November 12, 1918.

Whereas, Section 71 of the 1917 School Laws provide that:

"Whenever any person shall make and enter into a valid contract with such district board to teach school in such district, such contract shall be binding upon such teacher until he has been legally discharged therefrom by such district board in regular session; and until such person shall have been thus discharged or released, he shall not have authority to make or enter into any valid contract with any other district board or board of education in the state of Oklahoma to perform services as teacher or instructor for a period of time covered by an existing valid contract which said person has made," and

Whereas, on account of the scarcity of teachers, reports come that many teachers have given up their schools and accepted positions in other schools without the consent of the board first employing them and without regard for the welfare of the school, and

Whereas, such conduct on the part of the teachers has caused great inconvenience and demoralization to the school system;

Now, therefore, be it resolved by the State Board of Education that it is the sense of the Board that all persons holding state certificates and who are guilty of violating their contracts without the consent of the board first employing them should have their certificates to teach school revoked, and upon information filed with the State Board of Education by the superintendent and board of education with whom the teacher holds a contract giving proof that the teacher holding an Oklahoma State Certificate has violated his contract, as above set forth, such teacher will be investigated by the State Board of Education in regular session and if found guilty of violating his contract the State Board of Education will proceed without delay to cancel said state certificate.

The State Board of Education further requests all county and city examining boards to follow a like course with reference to certificates issued by them. To be in effect after November 12, 1918.

PRICE LIMITATIONS OF SHOES DROPPED

The following telegram to the State Council of Defense from the Council of National Defense explains the shoe situation:

"War Industries Board requests us to advise you that the shoe program was by agreement with trade limited to the period of direct war requirements. At the signing of war requirements Board felt obligated to the trade to call them in conference and they have recommended that the pledge and window card system stamping of shoes, classification and price limitations be dropped but that the general conservation program that is voluntary reduction by manufacturers of the number of styles colors of leather et cetera be permitted to continue through the spring season of 1919. Therefore the distribution of pledge forms and window cards by the county councils pursuant to our general letter eighteen dated Nov. 1st automatically becomes unnecessary. Please so advise your county councils and transmit to them thanks of boot and shoe section War Industries Board for what they have already done."

HOW TO FIGHT SPANISH INFLUENZA

By Dr. L. W. Bowers.

Avoid crowds, coughs and colds, but fear neither germs nor Germans! Keep the system in good order, take plenty of exercise in the fresh air and practice cleanliness. Remember a clean mouth, a clean skin, and clean bowels are a protecting armour against disease. To keep the liver and bowels regular and to carry away the poisons within, it is best to take a vegetable pill every other day, made up of May-apple, aloes, jalap, and sugar-coated, to be had at most drug stores, known as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. If there is a sudden onset of what appears like a hard cold, one should go to bed, wrap warm, take a hot mustard foot bath and drink copiously of hot lemonade. If pain develops in head or back, ask the druggist for Anuric (anti-uric) tablets. These will flush the bladder and kidneys and carry off poisonous germs. To control the pains and aches take one Anuric tablet every two hours, with frequent drinks of lemonade. The pneumonia appears in a most treacherous way, when the influenza victim is apparently recovering and anxious to leave his bed. In recovering from a bad attack of influenza or pneumonia the system should be built up with a good herbal tonic, such as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, made without alcohol from the roots and barks of American forest trees, or his Ironic (iron tonic) tablets, which can be obtained at most drug stores or send 10c. to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., for trial package.

THE ANNUAL PICNIC

By JOSEPHINE MURPHY.

(Copyright, 1918, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

At the time of the annual picnic given by Lovett & Neville to their employees it was expected that any incident of romance that the year had developed would be haled forth into the gay light of publicity. Not that the number was so very great, but it must be admitted that even the most distinguished floorwalker loses a certain charm—the charm, perhaps, of the proud and unapproachable—when you have taken notes on him for a twelvemonth across the counter.

Nevertheless, something was always to be hoped for at the annual picnic. A year ago it was confidently predicted that Kenneth Moore of the book department and Cynthia Gray of the ribbon counter were to afford the necessary love interests. There must have been an understanding between them, certainly; he hardly so much as said "Good morning" now to other girls; they had been seen together at the star and lunch. Oh, there were plenty of signs! The seal of finality was all that was lacking.

The long-expected day brought only confusion to these cherished hopes. Cynthia, who was looked upon as one of the most refined girls in the whole store, appeared unusually gay and reckless. First she was devoted to one man, then to another, with an imprudence that set friendly eyes wide with horror. Finally, when the picnic dinner was over, the party broke up for games, swan-boating and strolls in the woods. Cynthia flung herself at a certain Mr. Green, newly of the shoe department, and before the eyes of all they had gone together toward the lake.

"Well, wouldn't that frost you?" gasped Florence Small. "Is the girl crazy? The way she's treating Kenneth, and he the most refined fellow in the store, too!"

They saw Kenneth alone, and sent one of the new men over to him with an invitation to come to the skating rink; but he only shook his head with a wan smile, and replied: "I have got sort of a headache; guess I'll just sit around a while. Perhaps I'll come down later." He did not have a headache; but he wanted to be alone, for his heart was sore. He had not expected Cynthia to treat him like this.

During the whole trip she had scarcely spoken a word to him. No one would ever have thought they knew each other. And it didn't seem like her either. He couldn't understand it. Why, only the last time he called on her they had sat together in her little "den," and had talked on quite a number of subjects. There was nothing sentimental about Cynthia; they had been just good pals together; that was what he liked best in a girl.

She sang well and loved poetry, both of which he also was fond of. What had first attracted him to Miss Gray was the sight of her buried in a volume of poems. He had asked her what she was reading. She had glanced up at him with a smile he could never forget. "Lucile," she said.

Now, Kenneth had never read "Lucile," so he purchased a copy, which at this very moment was in his pocket. He had brought it, thinking of how he and Cynthia—but what was the use of thinking. That was all it had come to. And he mused, as others mused before him.

In the distance he heard the gay strains of the band at the skating rink, and the sound disturbed him, so out of harmony was it with his mood. He thought of Mr. Green, perhaps even now paddling down the lake with the faithful Cynthia. But Cynthia had ruthlessly deserted Mr. Green when he went in quest of a boat, and strolled off by herself.

Kenneth arose from the bench on which he had been sitting and wandered up the path. Sitting down under a tree he opened his volume, "Lucile." He was glad even now that Cynthia was not beside him.

Afternoon sunlight began to peep through the trees. He got up and leaped to the summit of a fern-grown bowlder, and looking down the path, a chill of terror ran over him. Cynthia was walking toward him with downcast eyes, digging the toe of her little boot into the moss every now and then. All at once she stopped, and with a cry snatched something. It was "Lucile." She pressed the volume to her lips. "It's his!" he heard her murmur—"Kenneth's." There were tears in her eyes. "Kenneth!" he heard her murmur again. He took a step forward. "Cynthia," he cried, "Cynthia, dear!"

He forgot the steepness and height of the bowlder; he slipped, lost his balance, and in a minute was lying below. Cynthia ran to him, fell on her knees with a cry of distress.

"Oh! Kenneth, are you hurt?" He sat up and shook himself, like an English sparrow after a bath.

"I suppose they are all laughing at me; but I don't care—I mean, not if you'll call me 'Kenneth' like that again."

Springing to his feet, he flung his arms about Cynthia and kissed her ardently several times.

"Cynthia!" he gasped. "I love you. You can't get away."

"I don't know as I want to," she retorted shyly. "I think we've been foolish enough for one day," she added; and after kissing her once more they walked down toward the skating rink.

GOWING HEADS CHAMBER OF COM.

NEW OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS ELECTED. WILL HAVE WEEK- LY OR BI-WEEKLY LUNCHEONS.

At a mass meeting held last evening at the County Courthouse, it was decided to make a campaign for more members for the Chamber of Commerce, retain the services of O. N. Walker as secretary at a slightly advanced salary, and endeavor in every way to put Ada to the front as an industrial center and as an admirable place in which to live.

The following officers and directors were elected: C. V. Gowing, president; Ed Gwin, vice president; J. F. McKeel, F. L. Finley, L. A. Ellison, C. E. Cunningham, J. M. Gordon, J. E. Hickman and S. M. Shaw, directors. The new officers and directors pledged themselves to do everything in their power to advance the interest of Ada along every advisable line.

A membership committee was appointed, two from each ward. This committee will work out ways for interesting the citizenship of the city in the work of the Chamber of Commerce and get the co-operation of every one in the city. This committee consists of Miles Grigsby and F. L. Finley for the first ward, Luther Harrison and A. L. Fentem for the second ward, L. C. Lindsey and Henry Collins for the third ward, and H. B. Roach and W. L. Whitaker for the fourth ward.

It was decided that as many members as possible should get together at a luncheon every week or every two weeks and talk over the welfare of the city in an understanding way. To make arrangements for this T. B. Blake, M. C. Wilson and W. E. Harvey were appointed as a committee.

President J. M. Gordon of the Normal made a favorable report on the Students Army Training Corps at the Normal, and gave the Chamber of Commerce credit in the main for getting this unit and making it a success. It is Mr. Gordon's idea that the unit will be continued through this school year.

Several addresses were delivered during the evening. Every one present was of the opinion that the immediate future offers greater opportunities and possibilities for building a city than any period of the same length in the past. To let this opportunity pass would not be business like or show a spirit of progressive-ness.

IT'S NOT YOUR HEART; IT'S YOUR KIDNEYS

Kidney disease is no respecter of persons. It attacks all classes, regardless of age, sex or conditions. A majority of the ill-afflicted people today can be traced back to the kidney trouble.

The kidneys are the most important organs of the body. They are the filters, the purifiers, of your blood. If the tissues which are swept from the tissues by the blood are not eliminated through the kidneys, disease of one form or another will claim you as a victim.

Kidney disease is usually indicated by weariness, sleeplessness, nervousness, despondency, backache, stomach trouble, difficulty when urinating, pain in loins and lower abdomen, gall stones, gravel, rheumatism, catarrhs and lumbago.

All these derangements are nature's signals to warn you that the kidneys need help. You should use GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules immediately. The soothing, healing oil stimulates the kidneys, relieves inflammation and destroys the germs which have caused it. Do not wait until tomorrow. Go to your druggist today and insist on his supplying you with a box of GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. In twenty-four hours you should feel health and vigor returning and will bless the day you first heard of GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil.

After you feel that you have cured yourself, continue to take one or two capsules each day, so as to keep in first class condition and ward off the danger of other attacks.

Ask for the original imported GOLD MEDAL brand. Three sizes. Money refunded if they do not help you.

BLUE VALLEY FARM IS SELLING HOLSTEIN HERD
 The Blue Valley Farm, located at the municipal boundary of Roff, will dispose of its herd of registered and high grade Holstein cows at a public sale Saturday. This is considered one of the choice herds in this part of the state, and it is thought a big crowd will be present.
 Pontotoc County is gradually becoming a great livestock county. Registered cattle, registered horses and other stock is doing much to put this county in the line light. W. B. Gay reports that before the first of the year the quarantine line will be removed, and Pontotoc county will take its place with the other counties in Oklahoma free of the cattle tick. This will give a renewed impetus to the cattle industry.
 It would be well for those who want to start a dairy herd, especially if they want to start with Holsteins, to be at the sale Saturday and get some choice animals.

Castanets are musical instruments of percussion in the form of two hollow nut-shells, which are bound together by a band fastened on the thumb, and struck by the fingers to produce a thrilling sound in keeping with the rhythm of the music. The castanets were introduced into Spain by the Moors, where they retain the name of castanuelas, from their resemblance to the form of the chestnut. The castanets were once much used in the ballet and in the opera.

Never Suffer From Overwork.
 People who keep their minds clear and cool, who take things philosophically as they come; who discipline their wills to look on the cheerful side of things; who eat what they need, proportioned to their physical activity; who take stimulants not at all, or, if they ever do, never take them to whip their flagging strength—such people can do a prodigious amount of work and never dream of such a thing as "overwork."

Welsh "Stafell"
 Reference to a "stafell" in a recent West Wales breach of promise case puzzled the court. The "stafell" is the household linen usually brought by a Welsh bride to her new home. The custom, still practiced, is one of great antiquity. In early times a girl was not allowed to get married until she had spun the linen, and from it comes the term spinster. "Stafell" is now bought at the shop, to the old folks a degenerate innovation.

Didn't Mean to Fall Next Time.
 This story comes from British East Africa. A hunter met a magnificent lion almost face to face. With a terrible roar the beast sprang at the man, but missed his aim by jumping 2 feet too high. Disappointed, it dashed away into the woods. The next day a party set out to track the beast down, and at last came upon it in an open space in the jungle practicing low jumps.

Wedding Cake.
 The wedding cake has from time immemorial formed among us an important item in the matrimonial banquet. This is a relic of the Roman period, when the pagan marriage ceremony consisted principally of the contracting parties partaking of a cake made of flour, salt and water, in the presence of the Pontifex Maximus of high priest and ten witnesses.

Quick Work.
 Overheard at a county fair: (Intoxicated Man gazing in open-mouthed astonishment at an incubator just placed in floral hall and in which the chicks are beginning to hatch)—"These here incubators just beat anything I ever saw. I give you my word them eggs haven't been in here an hour and they are hatching already."

To Have Men Yours.
 Go forth into the busy world and love it, interest yourself in its life; mingle kindly with its joys and sorrows; try what you can do for men rather than what you can make them do for you, and you will know what it is to have men yours, better than if you were their king or master.—Brooke Herford.

Speed of Carrier Pigeons.
 A fairly long journey, say to 100 miles or more, the carrier pigeon will average a speed of from 37 to 43 miles an hour. The best horse in the world can only keep up a speed approximate to that for six or seven minutes at most. The pigeon's speed is about 33 yards a second.

Deserves Preferment.
 An Ohio man has invented a door-knob that when grasped in the hand illuminates an electric bulb placed just above the keyhole. A genius such as he deserves to be rewarded with a seat in the United States senate.—Rochester Post Express.

Materials in Airplane.
 Exclusive of the engine, the average airplane contains 4,326 nails, 3,377 screws, 920 steel clampings, 798 forgings, 276 turnbuckles, 65 pounds of aluminum and relative quantities of varnish, rubber, linen, wood, etc.

Should Be Surrounded by Water.
 First Class Scout—"Why, Johnny Smith, your neck is simply covered with mud!" Tenderfoot—"Say, Jim, do you suppose that's what our teacher meant by a neck of land?"—Boys' Life.

Quit Your Spattering.
 To prevent an automobile spattering mud upon pedestrians there has been invented a flexible metal ring to be attached close to a tire.

Reputation.
 A man's reputation is like his shadow, which is sometimes larger and sometimes shorter than the man.—Punchstutaway Spirit.

Change While You Look.
 By moving a single lever a new automobile body is converted into an open car or a two-seated vehicle.

Optimistic Thought.
 The highest virtue of all is victory over ourselves.

Brush the Teeth With Apple.
 An apple eaten in the evening will cleanse the teeth mechanically and chemically, says the Popular Science Monthly, and if followed by vigorous brushing will protect them from bacteria during the night.

It Is Deceiving.
 "A good deal of sympathy you give in this world," said Uncle Eben, "wounds a heap like sarcasm."

Just a Little Smile

Good Turns.
 Patience—In older Japanese theaters the scene was changed by revolving the whole stage on a turntable, bringing into view the scene the stagehands had been working on during the playing of the previous act.
 Patience—And in case of an encore the whole stage had to be turned again, I suppose?
 "Oh, yes; then, as now, one good 'turn' deserved another."

Not Impressed.
 "I was out motoring with Scribson, the poet, the other day and we passed a farmhouse that had fallen into ruins. It was such a sad travesty of a home that Scribson was on the verge of tears at beholding it."
 "Well! Well!" said the man who has no sentiment in his soul. "Did Scribson own the place?"

Efficacious.
 The candidate for medical honors was having a hard time answering the questions put to him. Finally one of the professors asked: "How would you sweat a patient for the rheumatism?"
 "I would send him here to be examined," said the student, mopping his beaded brow.

Incompatibility.
 "So you think a true musician never makes a good motorist."
 "That's my opinion," replied Mr. Chuggins. "No man who puts music above other considerations could be content with the kind of a tone produced by any automobile horn now on the market."

WHAT HE GOT.

Unnecessary Noises.
 They have taken the Bray from the mule; Oh, let the good work go on; Till the rooster breaks our rest no more. And the feline's yowl is gone.

At Pablo Beach.
 He—It oughtn't to be hard for a pretty girl like you to find a husband here.
 She—It isn't hard, but there's a slight obstacle in the way. They all belong to somebody else.

Natural Assumption.
 "You say Gadson is a nature lover?"
 "Yes."
 "Why, he lived all his life in city apartment houses."
 "Well, if that wouldn't make a man love nature I don't know what would."

Keeping Father Happy.
 "Mother is playing chess with father."
 "Does she play a skillful game?"
 "Oh, very. She's skillful enough to put up a good fight and yet invariably lose."

Another Move for Peace.
 "I compel my daughter to practice four hours a day."
 "Heavens, man! You'll make her hate music so that she will never want to go near a piano."
 "That's what I'm hoping."

His Best Girl.
 "Sweets to the sweet—that is what you told me last night."
 "Well, dear?" stammered the grocery clerk.
 "And now you say I can have only one pound of sugar."

Hi Bet.
 Her—Thanks so much for this candy, you know, I have a sweet tooth.
 Him—I—er—bet you have a sweet tooth.

Symptoms.
 "Doctor, I'm feeling awful; I can't eat; I can't sleep."
 "I can cure you," said the doctor. "Ask her to marry you."

Its Advantages.
 "The trouble with Jenkins is that he thinks he is smart and has been buying paper wheat." "But, dear me, George, couldn't anybody see there is no nourishment in such a substitute as that?"

She Knows.
 She had gone to the doctor for some medicine for her husband. "What is the nature of your husband's ailment?" asked the doctor. "To tell you the truth, doctor, I think it is a plain case of ill nature."

All in Family.
 Bobby was seated in the reception room of a hospital awaiting his mother's return from the bedside of a friend. A nurse in passing asked him if he had a good time playing out of doors these fine days. Bobby looked wistful and said there weren't many children in their neighborhood. The nurse asked: "Haven't you any brothers or sisters?" To which Bobby replied, "Oh, yes, but they live with us."

Phrase Drawn From Bible.
 The expression, "He who runs may read," does not occur in the Bible in that form, but is drawn from the Bible. Habakkuk chapter II, verse 2, reads: "And the Lord answered me and said: Write the vision and make it plain upon tables, that he may run that readeth it."

Wedding Custom From France.
 The custom of wearing orange blossoms at weddings is of comparatively recent date in this country. It came to us, like most other fashions in dress, from the French, who in their turn derived it from Spain. In the latter country it had long obtained, and is said to have been of Moorish origin.

Craze for Possession.
 We might enjoy to their utmost many things that we now spoil by the selfish craze of possession. Why should the velvet lawn and strip of woodland cease to be a pleasure and become a source of jealousy and heartache because it is our neighbor's?—Exchange.

BOLSHEVIKI NO MATCH FOR ALLIED INFANTRY.
 ARCHANGEL, Nov. 21.—The Bolshevik forces along the Dvina, their infantry attacks having been repulsed, today were bombarding the Russo-allied positions on the left bank of the river at Tulgas. The allied artillery is replying vigorously.
 Since late in September the Bolsheviks have been trying stubbornly but fruitlessly to drive the allied forces up the Dvina to north of its junction with the Vaga. The small amount of ice in the river at this time of year is helping the enemy gunboats. The bolsheviks apparently possess a large number of river craft on which to mount naval guns brought from Petrograd.
 As long as the enemy gunboats are able to move, the Americans and British are combating great odds. But the enemy infantry is no match for the allies, the bolshevik losses in killed, wounded and captured being at least five times that of the allies.
